

Things don't know where they are yet

New house

Uneasy feelings

When Hucksy and Nora moved in together, they were both called in to work.

Which left Nora's sister, Branch to tell the movers where to put everything.

All definitely wrong, remarkably so, but the couple too tired to straighten anything out.

After a few days they didn't recognize each other.

And Nora insisted she couldn't sleep, insisting on exclusivity upon her sofa.

Her other possessions seemed uncomfortable,
emmiting
aruras and even sounds that way.
